

When you give people the right to tax your property, you also give them the ability to control.

Most people would argue that it is necessary to tax property so that we can pay for schools. Ask yourself, before the property tax and public schools, how did we pay for it? Now, public education, that is a topic for another day.

In any event, have you known any government that has not found a way to collect taxes? Is the property tax the only mechanism? Take a look at some of your bills.

If we are looking for solutions to combat what is commonly referred to as Agenda 21, let's start with the basics first.

Abolish the property tax.
