Protect Ohio Children

Stop OBSCENITY in Classrooms

Stop CSE [COMPREHENSIVE SEXUALITY EDUCATION]

Providing sexually explicit materials in schools and libraries desensitizes children to sexual ideas, conversations, and conduct. This is a strong component of the grooming process used by sexual predators. Sexually explicit materials have been found in all aspects of school curriculum including literature, history, class parties, art, and special projects. It cannot be avoided by parents simply opting out of sex education classes. This leaves children even more susceptible to exploitation and abuse, from other minors, and from adults. We need to immediately repeal laws that facilitate sexual exploitation and abuse. The "harmful to minors" laws must be allowed to function as intended without protecting certain occupations.

About Us

Who We Are

The Protect Child Health Coalition (PCHC) is a network of concerned citizens, parents, professionals, leaders, and organizations representing the fields of law, academia, mental and physical health, politics, religion, government and more who believe that all children should be protected from harmful materials, especially pornographic, obscene, or erotic materials. We are a nonpartisan coalition that welcomes people of all faiths (and of no faith) who have an interest in protecting the health and innocence of children.

We oppose all efforts to advance autonomous sexual rights for children and believe that children have a right to a childhood, free from political, sexual, or other adult agendas.

We believe that the family and parents are the ultimate guardians of their children and that the rights of parents to guide the upbringing of their children and to guide their education in all matters are inalienable.^[i]

The Protect Child Health Coalition is facilitated by Family Watch International (FWI) and directed by a rotating leadership of co-chairs representing various organizations working to stop CSE in the U.S. and abroad.

Our Mission

To empower individuals, organizations, and policymakers with the knowledge, resources, and tools they need to protect the health and innocence of children worldwide.
