The mission of RUC is "teaching youth the blueprint for strong future families." RUC encourages saving all sexual activity for marriage and helps young people understand dating violence so they can recognize healthy versus unhealthy relationships. RUC explains why marriage and family are so important. Our goal is to assist young people to defend saving sex for marriage with their peers, their parents and their communities.

RUC updated its Constructing Safe Relationships dating violence program in 2017, which now includes three lessons on addiction and a discussion of why pornography is harmful to individuals, families and communities.
