Ohio Public Forum on Election Integrity

Avon, OH - Does your vote count in Ohio? The nation saw unprecedented irregularities in the 2020 election, but did you know the 2022 Primary elections in Ohio were also riddled with problems? We've invited elected Ohio officials, candidates, subject matter experts and members of the public as we reveal official documents obtained from multiple Boards of Elections in Ohio, including Cuyahoga County - that highlight hundreds of admitted issues that could have devastating consequences on the safety and security of our elections. Experts will analyze the vulnerabilities in Ohio's election system and discuss possible remedies.

About American Citizens & Candidates Forum for Election Integrity (ACCFEI)

Citizens and political candidates seeking free, fair and secure elections are helping to organize a series of election integrity forums and ad hoc hearings across the country to allow citizens and subject matter experts the opportunity to voice their concerns and provide evidence with regard to irregularities in the 2020 election. The forums will be solutions-based and thus will provide an opportunity for elected officials and candidates to propose solutions to secure elections in the future, including discussing ways to address vulnerabilities in current election law.
