A Senate Blackberry belonging to Joe Biden found in May 2017 connects to yet another death on Capitol Hill - this time the Senate Sergeant-at-Arms.

During Capitol Riot Found Dead

Journalist George Webb was told a network of encrypted Blackberrys in the Senate Sergeant-at-Arms was being used for covert actions like Libya, Syria, and Ukraine in May 2017, and the bodies have been stacking up ever since.

I wrote about six Senate laptops stolen from the US Senate Sergeant-at-Arms office after the events I witnessed on January 6th.

Now a key witness to the fact, Michael Stenger, the Senate Sergeant-at-Arms, appears to have been murdered on his way to January 6th testimony

Journalist George Webb wrote a book about the removal of the Senate and House “Ukraine laptops” on January 6th, 2021 called “At One They Strzok”.

I had the good fortune of having a long-time Biden adviser drop one of the US State Department Blackberrys configured for the US Senate in my lap in May of 2017.

In a potential scheme to implicate the Bidens only in dark weapons dealing in Ukraine, the actual perpetrators may have given away key incriminating evidence about themselves.

These Blackberrys connected to the Senate Sergeant of Arms laptops I was told. Kickbacks for energy deals in Ukraine seemed to be the motivation for the US Senators like Joe Biden.

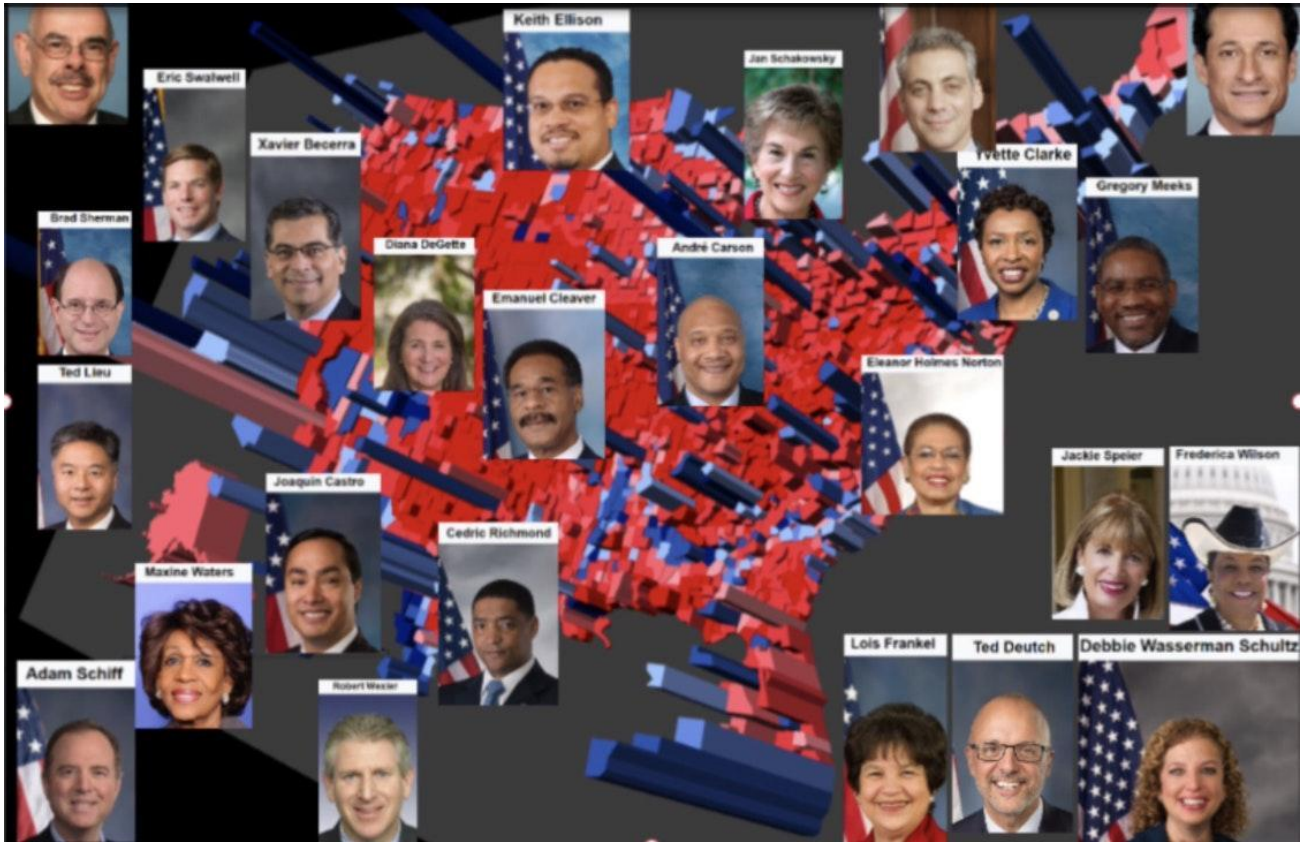

One thing is for sure - the “specially configured” US State Department Blackberrys keep leading us to a Ukrainian Billionaire named Igor Kolomoisky. We seemed to be finding one Kolomoisky skeleton in the closet after another looking at the U.S. Senate’s energy deals in Ukraine.

These “special” US State Department Blackberrys traced all the way back to Beau Biden in Kosovo and Serbian NATO conflicts, and I just made a trek through all these countries tracing the Blackberrys’ early history with the Bidens.

Now I had hard evidence these encrypted Blackberrys connected to the US Congress deciding on covert action in Libya, Syria, and Ukraine through an encrypted Blackberry network.

Key Democrats in Congress appeared to be selling access to covert operations through an encrypted Blackberry network.

From the very beginning in September 2016, I was on a hunt for US State Department Blackberrys used by Hillary Clinton and her executives John Podesta and Huma Abedin at the Clinton Foundation for Libya topple gains being used to fund Hillary Clinton's 2016 Presidential Campaign. All suspicions on the very start, beginning with the seemingly fraudulent DNC 'hack', focused on one Dmitri Alperovich.

I knew Dmitri as the CEO of a hacking team we bought at Network Associates in 2000 to write viruses and port the PGP encryption software to various platforms. From the outset, I knew proving the case against the Clinton Foundation for money laundering would require finding the US State Department Blackberrys that Dmitri configured. I wrote a book later about my chase to find the Dmitri Alperovitch U.S. State Department Blackberry trove called "Blackberrys Matter" which again was an Amazon bestseller and then also quickly banned.

Journalist George Webb wrote a book about the search for Dmitri Alperovich's US State Department Blackberry trove called "Blackberries Matter" which quickly became a best seller and then was almost immediately banned.

The part I find amazing about all the early work I did on the Clinton Foundation and the "specially configured" US State Department Blackberrys is how they still lead directly to the biggest stories in Ukraine - Kolomoisky and Dmitri Alperovich's Ukraine.

We just got a glimpse of how oligarch militias could bring chaos to Ukraine

Putin has publicly stated his invasion is about rounding up Kolomoisky's Azov Battalion, and many believe Kolomoisky's dark weapons used since 2014 in various Azov overthrows around the world are still stockpiled somewhere in Ukraine.

The situation in Ukraine hasn't played itself out yet with Kolomoisky, the Azov Battalion, and Putin's search for the Azov Battalion's dark weapons, but we are tantalizingly close. Putin is closing in on Kolomoisky's steel plant in Kramatorsk, Ukraine, the suspected storehouse of Kolomoisky's dark weapons stash dating back to Libya.

Is Putin pivoting to Kolomoisky's Kramatorsk steel plant? Is an FBI raid at Kolomoisky's Warren, Ohio steel plant to destroy NATO bio evidence far behind?

Ethnic cleansing in Ukraine by Kolomoisky with Op SeaSpray? Notice how all the Congressional State Dept Blackberrys point to this program. So do the Russian sanctions. Does Putin know about SeaSpray?

Journalist George Webb extensively detailed the evidence against the Clinton Foundation's laundering of dark weapons profits obtained from the overthrow of the Libyan Government in 2011.

One thing is for sure now though -Michael Stenger is dead. And the Senate Sergeant of Arms secrets may have died with him.
